

The Ripe Tangerine Puerh Tea is made from the fusion of green tangerines grown in Xinhui, Guangdong Province, and Chen Puerh produced in Menghai County, Yunnan Province. The fruits and leaves are picked from seasoned trees which is an important factor when it comes to achieving quality and flavor. The fused mixture is stored and aged for 5 years before the aromatic tea is ready to be consumed. This rich and slightly sweet tea offers a high nutritional value and warms your body, making it a perfect beverage for autumn or winter.
