

Ginger might be a staple in Asian cuisine, but in Jacqueline's family, it's so much more. Not only is it used in home-cooked meals, but ginger is also used to ease tummy aches and nausea. As a result, the scent of ginger is particularly comforting for Jacqueline's family, which is why she wanted to craft a scent that would highlight ginger as being more than a spicy root.

Hence Jacqueline created the Grapefruit & Ginger candle, a scent meant to impart joy. The grapefruit's subtle sweetness mixes well with ginger's spice to create a blend that pastes smiles on faces. Customers have stated they use this scent to help improve focus, especially during times of stress.
