

FOGLIA Filo Rosso is a Limited Edition made with recycled red silk threads collected from an African tribe and casted into the acrylic material. A special inspiration NFT, designed by the founder will be granted to each unique piece.

FOGLIA (meaning 'leaf' in Italian) was the first design created by SUGO and perhaps the most significant and unique in our collection. It was first conceived over 10 years ago when Kevin got lost on a backpacking trip in central Thailand. There, he witnessed the ethereal color transformation of the banana plant in different light conditions. In awe of the seemingly surrealistic bombardment of shapes and colors, he decided that one day he would design a product derived from this experience. FOGLIA was born in 2011 as the first example of SUGO's innovative design spirit. After several years of alterations and enhancements, the final product came to life in 2018 with the world's first magnetic interchangeable acrylic screen system designed by SUGO's Italian research laboratory. This makes FOGLIA the most customizable design product seen in the lighting, sculpture and design industry.
