

The Conspiracy Dark Milk Chocolate bar was created after 8 months of research and development, as a rigorous culinary exercise aimed at raising the bar for vegan takes on milk chocolate.

The final creation is not only delicious, but complex and healthy. The vegan Dark Milk Chocolate does not compromise and celebrates the smoky and intensely fruity terroir of Dak Lak, Vietnam, at 52% hence Dark Milk chocolate, almost double the cacao content of a traditional / common milk chocolate bar, usually 26-35%.

Cacao is densely packed with micro-nutrients and is made up of 20% protein, essentially a superfood.

Besides cacao, the bar is made up of cashews which we roast ourselves, and coconut, two other top-shelf health foods.
