

Find yourself within the pages of 'The Hong Konger Anthology', a satirical and subverted delve into Hong Kong culture.

Whether you're a wild boar spotter, dragon boat drummer, Chinese medicine vendor, Kowloon-wary expat, overscheduled student, lascivious tai tai, or Hong Kong Mom™, you only need to crack open this book to find your likeness.

'The Hong Konger Anthology' features 70 prints inspired by New Yorker magazine covers and a compendium of zany, thoughtful, and satirical poems inspired by Western and Chinese poetry.

It's a celebration and critique of Hong Kong's unique characters and a great addition to the stack of books collecting dust on your coffee table.

Primary Material: Paper

Primary Color: Multicolor

Customization: This product is not customizable.