

Inspired by ancient earthenware, this pitcher features a contemporary design that seamlessly integrates with modern interiors. As the enjoyment of sake becomes more versatile and is paired with a wider variety of dishes, Nozomi has created a piece that aligns with these new styles.

In the Japanese language, "Nagi" refers to a condition where the wind dies down and the waves are calm. Nozomi named it "Nagi" with the intention that users would experience a tranquil moment similar to the stillness of the sea.

Designed to enhance the experience, it harmonizes with the user, space, decor, and meal, creating a refined ambiance and memorable moments.
